Walking the Llano: A Texas Memoir of Place by Shelley Armitage

Description: What does the land say to us? Armitage asks. In this lyrical eco-memoir set in the Texas Panhandle, an unique discovery of a largely unknown land--once known to expeditions and entradas as a "sea of grass." At once deeply personal and far-reaching in its explorations of the connections between memory, spirit, and place and the voices of ancient, Hispano, and Native people, Armitage, reminiscent of the work of Terry Tempest Williams and John McPhee, charts the meaning of kinship in an ever-changing world.

What Lasts Is The Breath by Janet Eigner

Description: These poems chart one mother's ten-year elegiac walk through grief for her daughter. Each experience of wisdom from several spiritual traditions in the Southwest, in Jewish mysticism, in the Sufi Middle East, begins to coalesce as one strong metaphor about shattering and restoration of wholeness. Poet Eavan Boland, Read these powerful poems with so much attention and respect...a quirky power and music...something powerfully particular about these, very persuasive.

Complete Santa Fe Bucket List by Pat Hodapp

Description: [This] makes me smile and reminds me of many of the reasons I love Santa Fe. Hodapp combines a librarian's obsession for getting things right with her passionate, on-going love affair with her adopted home town. This gem of a book offers unique and valuable suggestions for visitors and locals, things to see and do for all ages, in all price ranges, throughout our fascinating ancient city. Her recommendations include places to eat – one of my personal favorite ways to explore any city. Written with witty prose and honest personal insights, this useful little guide combines fun and facts in a delightful way. I highly recommend it. – Anne Hillerman
